Chapter 1

The Beginning Of A Wild Quest

This is Hat Boy. A simple little doodle in the wild town of Hatland.

"Hmmm… what should I wear?" Hat Boy thought. "Should I wear the Black hat? Or the rainbow hat? Yeah, the black hat." The doorbell buzzed. "Oh! That must be Korgi."

Hat Boy opened the door and saw Korgi.

"Hey Hat Boy!" Korgi exclaimed raising his hands in the air. "Man, it sure has been a while…" Hat Boy said. Korgi sniffed something yummy… "Mmmmm… doodle pie," Korgi muttered. "Yep. Doodle Pie." Hat Boy said dreamily.

Hat Boy took the pie out of the oven, sliced some pieces of the pie, and gave half the pie to Korgi and Hat Boy ate the other half of the pie. "Hey," Korgi said, full of food in his mouth. "I heard that there was some rouge glitch that escaped Hat Labs recently." Hat Boy's eyes widened. "You're joking, right?" Hat Boy questioned. "I'm not joking check out Hat News."

Hat Boy turned on the TV and went to channel 001.
"BREAKING NEWS!" The newsman announced on the television. "Hat Labs has recently announced that a rogue experiment has… ESCAPED HAT LABS?!?!" The broadcast froze and there was only static.

"Well uh— That's no good." Hat Boy said.

"You wanna go on a quest to find the glitch?" Korgi amusingly asked. "But won't it be pointless?" Hat Boy said. "Nope. Not at all. Says here you can be hired to find the glitch. It's really rare," Korgi said. But shortly after,  Hat Boy's phone buzzed, "DUDE! We got the quest!" Hat Boy said. "Who's we?" Korgi asked. Hat Boy showed the message and Korgi read it out loud royally,

"You, Hat Boy have been assigned to hunt the glitch and return it. Korgi, your friend may choose to come with you on this quest.

Best Regards,Dudpen Hattacris,"

"You weren't joking," Korgi said. "Well, I don't think you can say no this Hat Boy. Let's just get ready for the quest." Korgi finished his pie and said his farewells to Hat Boy.

"Ok," Hat Boy thought. "I'm gonna take this hat, this hat, and these 10 hats." Hat Boy wondered and wondered. "What else do I need?" Suddenly, Hat Boy got a spark. A spark of what he needed. "I need some weapons, Like a pencil to poke, a net to catch the glitch, and uh… a slingshot." Hat Boy was all ready and he was about to open his door and… Korgi was just waiting for Hat Boy outside his front door. "FINALLY DUDE! Took you forever." Korgi shouted from the lawn. "It was my first time getting weapons," Hat Boy shouted back. "Whatever, we need to get on with the quest Hat Boy," Korgi said. "I'm ready now." Hat Boy said, running out of the house. "Well, let's go now." And the two of them walked over to the gates of Hatland and began their adventure.

Chapter 2

The Lifeless Forest

As Hat Boy and Korgi set off on their quest they realized how eerie and ominous the forest was. "Last time I was here it was full of life. Now it's like going to a lifeless planet." Korgi muttered. "Hat Labs didn't mention what the glitch did. This is probably what the glitch does." Hat Boy smartly said.

"So the glitch kills wildlife?" Korgi laughed.

"Yeah, I guess," Hat Boy muttered.

As they got deeper into the forest, it got darker and darker. Even though it was pure daylight they couldn't see anything. "Hey, something smells funny." Korgi *sus*piciously said. "Probably just you have smelled the trash can earlier." Hat Boy teased.  Korgi wrinkled his nose. "Why on any realm, would I smell a trash can? But I also have a sensitive nose. Hey, is that… a giant mushroom?" Korgi got out his bone and started hitting it. "You're right. And I think I see ominous eyes in the shadows…" Hat Boy said. The mushroom leapt forward and hit Hat Boy.

"OUCH!" Hat Boy shouted weakly.

Some black stuff started dripping out of Hat Boy's leg. "Uh, dude I think you're bleeding." Korgi nervously whispered to Hat Boy. "Just my cough, pencil lead." Hat Boy continued coughing. "You're poisoned!" Korgi quickly scared off the mysterious mushroom. Hat Boy fell to the ground and started shaking. "Here, drink this, it's a medication," Korgi said. "Calm down, calm down, it's just pencil lead. Pretty much blood to me. How did you not figure that out earlier?"  Hat Boy carelessly said.

"Whatever," Korgi stuffed the potion in Hat Boy's mouth and, Hat Boy went into a deep, deep sleep. "The potion is working. Time to heal the wound," Korgi wrapped a bandage around Hat Boy's wound. "Dang it, now I gotta carry Hat Boy." Korgi put Hat Boy in his sleeping bag and dragged him throughout the forest. Korgi knows his way through the forest but, it seemed like it was starting to get brighter and sound was kicking back in. "We must be at the other side of the forest," Korgi thought. "This means that the poison will wear off!" Korgi finally dragged Hat Boy out of the forest and to no surprise, he saw the great large fields of Turtle Valley.

Suddenly, Hat Boy just randomly shouted out, "WHAT THE PEN HAPPENED?!?" Korgi jumped up and dropped Hat Boy and landed feet down on the grass. "You scared the soul out of me Hat Boy." Korgi gasped. "Sorry, my life just.. flashed before my eyes. A lot more terrifying when you experience it." Hat Boy creepily said. "I probably should have told you that the creature was poisonous," Korgi confessed. "Meh, I at least I didn't die." "I still feel a little weak but, I can probably make it through." Hat boy said. "Hey, do you see something... Black in the distance?" Hat boy said, nervously. "I think that's the glitch- IT'S THE GLITCH!" Korgi shouted in fear. "Hat Boy, you stay back and rest. I'll fight." Korgi took his bone and some sort of little dogs came out of it but BANG! Korgi was flung. "The glitch- it's- it's gone!" Korgi panted. "We're gonna need to find a way to capture it." Hat Boy proudly announced. "It breaks out easily, so nets won't work," Korgi said. Hat Boy spots some moving objects and some houses. "Hey! There must be a town over here.

Hat Boy stood up and started to run over to the village, "Last one there is a rotten egg!" Hat Boy teased. "Oh Hat Boy!" Korgi began to run behind Hat Boy.

Chapter 3

The Worst Day At Catopia

"How did you get up here so fast?" Hat Boy panted. "The speed of doggos." Korgi proudly boasted. "Hey, it's a whole town here!" Hat Boy said. "We gotta restock," Korgi said. "Why is Korgi so serious?" Hat Boy thought. "Hat Boy, here's a list of things we need. I'll go talk with the residents and see if they have any information about the glitch." Korgi planned. "Ok," Hat Boy moaned. Both Hat Boy and Korgi separated and went to complete their tasks. "Ok, let's see." Hat Boy thought. "We need 10 carrots, 5 potions, and… 100 dog bones? Eh, whatever." Korgi started walking around town trying to get information about the glitch. "Sorry! I don't have any information about the glitch. Maybe talk to the mayor about it." One of the residents advised. "Mayor! Oh, why didn't I think about that?" Korgi ran up to the town hall and went inside. "Mayor's office…" "Mayor's Office…" Korgi muttered. "There it is."

He ran inside the office and there he was. The mayor of Catopia himself.

"Hello. I believe you are Korgi. I have been informed by Hat Labs about the glitch and I have some details they didn't tell you." The mayor royally said. "Oh, My name is Mich by the way."

Meanwhile with Hat Boy, "Where is Korgi? It's been an hour and a half already! He should be back by now!" Hat boy said, angrily. "And there's a pretty big glitch fragment. Hold on, it's getting windy."

The winds grew stronger and faster, so strong that Hat Boy had to hold onto a stop sign pole to prevent himself from flying into the air.

When he looked back at the glitch, he saw things flying into it. "This place is corrupting. I need to tell Korgi! and everyone else or whatever." Hat boy said.

Korgi ran out of nowhere and Hat Boy didn't even see Korgi, so when he turned around Korgi looked like a monster from a dungeon "A MONSTER! KILL IT! KILL IT!" Hat Boy exclaimed. He realized that it wasn't a monster, but it was Korgi.

"What is going on with this place?" Korgi asked,
"Well, I don't know but some glitch fragments went inside the town's core." Hat Boy dumbly said. "Also how are you floating in mid-air?" Hat Boy asked. "My weight, Hat Boy. My weight."
Korgi grabbed onto Hat Boy's hand and held him in mid-air so he didn't fly away into the wind. "I see the exit!" Korgi Shouted. "Well I sure can't," Hat Boy muttered. "Brace yourself!" Korgi shouted and he leapt up in the air. They went up and up they went.

Soon, they got out of the storm and Korgi and Hat Boy started falling. Down, down and down. "We're gonna die!" Hat Boy shouted.

"Nonsense!" Korgi shouted back. Korgi got out a gigantic rubber mattress and he sat down in it with Hat Boy.
"Hold on to the mattress very very tightly, okay?" Korgi said. "If this prevents me from dying I will," Hat Boy said. They both grabbed onto the mattress as they fell they could see Catopia again but it seemed like it was abandoned. The mattress violently landed on the grass but Korgi and Hat Boy were fine.

"Phew, we didn't die." Hat Boy thought. Korgi and Hat Boy got off the mattress. "Uh, Korgi? What happened with Catopia?" Hat Boy said. Korgi noticed the damage and he heard screaming. It was very muffled and he assumed someone or something was piled in on something.

Korgi glanced at Catopia.

"Yeah, we should check it out," Korgi mysteriously said. They slowly walked to Catopia. It was extremely quiet, like walking around at a graveyard. Korgi started to sniff," Mich…" he continued to sniff his way until he found Mich, the mayor. "C'mon Hat Boy! Help me lift these walls off Mich!" Korgi said. Korgi and Hat Boy began to lift the heavy walls and lifted and lifted and over and over again until finally, "Phew, thank goodness you got those heavy walls of me!" Mich dramatically shouted. "I knew this would happen," Korgi muttered. "Yeah, only because I told you." Mich boasted. Hat Boy started rustling and swishing around him, "Hey guys, is it just me, or is someone or something watching us?" Hat Boy nervously asked. Korgi's senses kicked in. He took out his bone. "Something is going to attack us," Suddenly, a weird purplish doodle appeared in mid-air.

"Hel-l-HELLO." The glitch stammered. "Uhhh, hi?" Korgi said.

Hat Boy took out his pencil, and he started to shake it, he shook it and shook it. Pencil shavings started to fly all over the place, "Gods Of Doodles, stop the doodles of this chaotic experiment!" Hat Boy shouted. At once a gigantic pencil flew out of the sky and faded into the wretched glitch and, BOOM! A large explosion and it rained… pencil shavings. All of Catopia had turned into pencil shavings. "No! My beautiful town!" Mich cried. "Calm down, uh, this guy, it's just pencil shavings on everything. It can be fixed with an eraser." Hat boy said. "Oh… You may need a lot more…" Hat Boy sighed.

"Maybe a glitch fragment could do the trick," Korgi announced.

Korgi began to scavenge for glitch fragments like a pirate.

"Yeah, that's probably the best we can do Mich," Hat Boy apologized. Hat Boy began to look for fragments. "I'm not gonna help because you ruined Catopia!" Mich boasted rudely. He plopped on the ground and did nothing.

All he did was sit, and sit, and sit.

Korgi and Hat Boy's faces lit up. They smiled and then, they gasped.

"Finally! A glitch fragment!" They both exclaimed. Hat Boy and Korgi bounced to each other and combined the glitch fragments. It turned into an eraser. Mich frowned, "Aw come on! Now you need to look for more fragments!"  Mich whined. "No," Korgi frowned. He threw the eraser on the pencil shavings and the shavings formed into Catopia. "Finally! Catopia is back!" Mich exclaimed. "Thanks, guys-" Mich stopped. "Uh, Hat Boy? Korgi?"

Hat Boy and Korgi were gone. They were nowhere to be seen. "Eh, whatever. At least Catopia is back," Mich thought.

Chapter 4

Welcome 2 DummyVille!

"Where are we?" Hat Boy muttered.
"I don't know Hat Boy," Korgi cowardly said.

"What is this place?" Korgi said. "Wait, you don't know? You said you've been to every place on this planet!" Hat Boy shouted.
"I have been to every place on the planet- but this, I can't describe. It's just black, and that's it. No floor, no light." Korgi explained. "You're saying we're nowhere," Hat Boy nervously asked.

"Wait, I know where we are!" Korgi jumped but he just floated in midair and didn't come down, "We're not lost after all! Hooray!" Hat Boy cheered.

"Well that's also bad news Hat Boy— we're in an alternate universe."

"WHAT?! You're joking," Hat Boy cried miserably. "Nope, we're in a blank universe, but— we wouldn't be here if the universe had nothing," Korgi explained.

"Let's look around to find something!" Hat Boy laughed. "Ok," said Korgi. They looked, and they looked. But Hat Boy and Korgi were empty-handed. "There has to at least be a single pencil shaving," Hat Boy thought. "Ooh," Hat Boy whispered. "What could this little glitchy white thing go?" Hat Boy boasted. "Huh? What?!" Korgi exclaimed. Korgi began to dash towards Hat Boy and prevent him from pressing, that… thing. But as Korgi dashed towards Hat Boy, he got slower and slower.

Slower…

And slower…

Korgi became so slow that he was as slow as a snail.

"Why am I so slow?" Korgi slowly pronounced.

Hat Boy was just about to speak and then…

AAAAAAAAAAAAAA!!!!!! They both shouted.

They bounced onto the ground, they weren't harmed, somehow.
Hat Boy put his hand on the ground. It was soft and green. "Is this… grass?" Said Hat Boy.
"Yes it's grass, Hat Boy, how do you not know?" Korgi said.

Hat Boy stood up and he looked around.

"Ok, empty grasslands…" Hat Boy said.

"No, DummyVille," Korgi exclaimed. Korgi grabbed Hat Boy and carried him to some mysterious DummyVille. "Oh."

Inside were people that were very blocky and had different colors on their limbs. "Hhh-hai! Wel-come to DummyVille…" is all one could mutter. "Korgi, let's leave as soon as we can." Hat Boy said. "Agreed.." Korgi said. "Hold on, hold on, where's Mich?" Hat boy asked.

"I think he's still back in-" Korgi moaned. Mich fell out of mid-air and landed on one of the dummies.

"EWWWW! What the meow are you!?" Mich hissed. "Meow…" One of the blocky things questioned.

"Hey, Yeah. You. Hat Boy, Korgi, Mich." A tiny voice whispered.

The group turned around, Hat Boy stepped forward… while everyone backed away.

"What is he doing?" Korgi thought. "Why does it feel like… an old friend was left behind?" Hat Boy sadly asked. "Peanuts…mmm- PEANUT!" Hat Boy jumped up in the air and ran towards the voice and he picked up some orange hamster. "PEANUT!" it squealed. "Peanut, these are my friends. Korgi and Mich," Hat Boy explained. "Mich, Korgi! This is Peanut."

"Beep!" It squealed.

"This thing is weird. Why do you even have it?" Mich asked. "Because of this!" Hat boy slapped 'peanut," and it made a squeaking sound. The squeaking echoed. All of a sudden, PEW! PEW! PEW! Lazer beams flew all over the place. "AHHH!" Korgi shouted.

"Huh. It befriended you," Hat Boy muttered. "WHAT?!" Mich shouted.

"If it didn't- You would have died," Hat Boy explained. "Well, he befriended me too." Korgi proudly announced. "Cool aids," Mich moaned. "I'm starving," Hat Boy said. "BOOP!" Peanut gleefully squealed. "There's a haunted coffee shop?" Hat Boy said. "Can't be that bad." Hat Boy followed Peanut to the coffee shop.

The coffee shop label read: OMEGA COFFEE "You Have No Idea What You're Going Drink!"

"That's, a little creepy," Hat Boy stammered. "I know right?" Korgi said.

"I don't think we should drink or eat here," Mich says. "This is the only food, drink shop we have." Peanut said. "Yeah I can speak English," Peanut said. "Oh, Ok." Korgi and Mich weirdly said.

To Be Continued…

"You thought this was the end?" Hat Boy snickered. "Heck no it's not!" Peanut boasted. "This is just part 1 of the long adventure," Korgi explains.

"HAPPY WINTER FEST!"

Everyone exclaimed.
